

Eeva Hannele Sallinen

Helsinki University Hospital, Department of Neurology

(Started in course 6 2017)

I enrolled on this course as stroke is my special interest in clinical neurology, and I also have a thesis project on intracerebral hemorrhage. I would like to learn to treat my stroke patients better, and I hope that the course would also be helpful for my research. The course was warmly recommended by my colleagues, who have previously taken part in it.

I have started the course from Module 2. I found all the lecturers good and professional, and it was interesting to learn from experts. I have learned some up-to-date information on treatment of for example acute stroke, which I have already taken into practice when treating my patients.

The course has this far met my personal expectations very well. It has also been nice to get to know doctors from around the world and share opinions. It has been interesting to see how differently (partly due to different resources) stroke patients are treated in different countries. The course gives good networking possibilities, and now already, knowledge and opinions have been shared between us participants also outside the course weeks. To set up or take part in international studies will be easier due to the contacts made.

I would be interested in joining in an alumni organization. That kind of organization could for example organize education on topical subjects, and give possibilities to further networking.
