- Prepared and distributed a survey to investigate the methods employed by the stroke community in the collection and analysis of health economic data.
- A report summarising the survey results was distributed and discussed during a teleconference. Overall, the survey had a good response from a diverse range of perspectives providing a basis for the preparation of a manuscript.
- A manuscript on recommended health economic data collection and a proposed protocol for standardised methodology is being prepared for discussion at ESOC 2018 and subsequent submission to the ESO journal.
